We have resided in Loddington for the past 47 years. The areas in question have always been designated green spaces within the village. They enhance the visual aspect of the village and soften the impact of more structured dwellings. Kettering planning department have always maintained that these areas should be preserved and nothing has changed to alter this perspective. The view across HV1027 known as the Glebe Field gives an iconic view of St Leonard's Church and should under no circumstances been lost.
