Braybrooke is one of only a very few sites within this area that can truly be defined as a village. It is a beautiful area with a wonderful sense of community and great care for the village's immediate environment. It is a beautiful place to live. Its history is so very special to the residents. The open spaces that surround the village are very important, and very well used by so many enthusiastic walkers (not just from Braybrooke).

To make changes to the heart of the village, or, indeed the periphery, would be so much regretted by those who live here. Perhaps, too, it would be significant to mention that the Village has no public facilities.
